Adrienne Hausser is a Florida native, born in Pensacola and spent her childhood enjoying animals and nature and collecting shells on the beach. She spent her high school and college undergraduate years in Charlotte, North Carolina, and lived briefly in Baden-Baden, Germany, before returning to Florida. After graduating from UNC-Charlotte with a Masters in English, Adrienne taught English Literature, Composition, and Persuasive Writing at UNC-Charlotte. She attended law school at Wake Forest University in Winston-Salem, North Carolina. She has practiced workers' compensation law in Florida for over 20 years. Prior to joining Vernis & Bowling, she practiced First Party Property defense.

Adrienne manages and defends workers' compensation cases from their inception and through Final Hearing and appeal. Adrienne has handled thousands of workers' compensation claims and had taken several claims to hearing. Her favorite aspect of litigation is preparing the trial memoranda and appellate briefs. Adrienne's goal as a defense attorney is to achieve winning results, while seeking opportunities to resolve issues and claims to achieve the most cost-effective outcome for her clients. Adrienne has handled a wide variety of workers' compensation claims including catastrophic injuries, occupational disease and first responder/heart and lung claims involving various industries and professions including construction, police, firefighting, retail, restaurant, trucking, airline and manufacturing. She has also handled several claims involving insurance fraud.

Adrienne resides in Miami. She enjoys art and nature. In her spare time, she is very social and spends time with family, friends, her chihuahua, cat and canary. She also paints and it is her dream to eventually show her paintings in a gallery.
