Brandon Crane was born in Collegeville, Pennsylvania. He graduated from Iona College with a Bachelor of Business Administration with a focus in Finance. Brandon went on to attend law school at Pepperdine University School of Law, where he received his Juris Doctorate degree. While in law school Brandon also obtained a certificate in Alternative Dispute Resolution from the Straus Institute for Dispute Resolution.

Brandon began his law career practicing insurance defense at a West Palm Beach law firm, where he handled all varieties of civil litigation, including but not limited to first and third party insurance coverage disputes, personal injury, and construction defect. He then expanded his practice to handling real estate and trust and estate administration and litigation. He has since focused his practice extensively in first-party property insurance defense relating to coverage disputes throughout the State of Florida.

Brandon's goal is to ensure that his clients have an attorney who can guide them through the tedious litigation process and advise them on the best course of action for their legal situation. Brandon's years of experience in the first-party property field here in Florida have shown him that not every solution works for every situation and that each matter requires a unique strategy.

Clients can rest assured that if Brandon is assigned to their matter they will receive the best defense and legal advice possible.

When not practicing law, Brandon can often be found exercising, cooking, or spending time with his wife, daughter, and dog.
