Erin K. Grossman is a Florida native who graduated from Florida State University with a Bachelor of Science in Criminology and International Affairs. As an undergraduate, she volunteered her time to the community through the co-ed fraternity Alpha Phi Omega. Erin graduated from Florida State University College of Law cum laude with her Juris Doctorate.

After being admitted to the Florida Bar, Erin worked for several years in dependency law, assisting families in Florida both as a Children's Legal Services attorney for the Department of Children and Families and as a Best Interest attorney for the Guardian ad Litem Program. Erin has also worked as a consultant on personal injury litigation, including auto liability defense and premises liability. Her goal as a defense attorney is to provide excellent representation to clients by offering them responsive communications and creative solutions.

Erin resides in Tampa with her husband and their rabbit, Chaac. Outside of work, she enjoys spending time with family and friends, attending baseball games for the Tampa Bay Rays, and listening to music.
