William is a Boston native but grew up in South Florida. After graduating from the University of Florida with honors, William attended the Nova Southeastern University Shepard Broad College of Law and graduated. After graduating, William joined Vernis & Bowling and has focused his practice on First Party Property and litigated claims from inception up through trial preparation.

William has extensive experience working with insurance carriers and is adept at thinking outside the box in order to achieve the best results possible for his clients.

William wanted to be a lawyer for the opportunity to help make a difference and impact in the community. He enjoys the critical thinking aspect as well, having to find creative ways to solve unique problems that arise during the course of litigation.

William grew up with two older brothers and two loving parents who helped him become who he is today. He focuses on working hard and becoming a better person and attorney every day. When he is not working, William loves to spend time with his girlfriend and dog. William loves to be outdoors, especially fishing. He is an avid reader as well, with the Harry Potter series being his favorite.
